

Dear Manufacturers, Distributors, and Retailers,

NST GLOBAL, LLC dba SB TACTICAL's ("SB Tactical") has encountered a multitude of vendors and retailers offering handgun conversion kits with unlicensed and proprietary SB Tactical technology. SB Tactical takes seriously the unauthorized sales of unlicensed SB Tactical technology and infringement of SB Tactical's Intellectual Property. SB Tactical is the Owner of certain proprietary stabilizing brace® technology, including U.S. Patent No. 8,869,444 and U.S. Patent No. 9,354,021.

ME TECHNOLOGY, INC. dba CAA USA ("CAA USA") from Pompano Beach Florida, is currently the only licensee allowed to use SB Tactical's Patent No. 8,869,444 "Forearm-gripping stabilizing attachment for a handgun" for the purpose of manufacturing and distribution of handgun conversion kits. These kits include the MCK stabilizer conversion kits.

CAA USA is the only manufacturer authorized to produce handgun conversion kits with SB Tactical's stabilizing brace technology. This means that any handgun conversion kits with SB Tactical's stabilizing brace technology that are not manufactured by CAA USA are unauthorized, unlicensed, and infringe on SB Tactical's Intellectual Property. Kits manufactured by companies like YRS Inc, CAA Industries (Israel) and Jay Technology are unlicensed and unauthorized. SB Tactical has the authority and will enforce its Intellectual Property Rights, if necessary. Unauthorized manufacturers, distributors, and retailers are at risk of facing litigious results due to infringement.

Because you may not have known about this exclusivity, and you do not intend to infringe on SB Tactical's technology causing it harm, we respectfully request any purported, counterfeit and/or unauthorized use of stabilizer braces in handgun conversion kits manufactured, sold, or marketed by other companies be reported to SB Tactical promptly. Please notify us of any stabilizer braces sold in connection with handgun conversion kits coming from companies other than CAA USA.

Sincerely,

NST Global, LLC dba SB Tactical
